The Fascinator— a Stern-Wheeler River Steamer

The famed stern-wheeler Delta Queen came up the Arkansas River from Memphis on the Mississippi and spent Wednesday night at Pine Bluff. In the course of his report for Thursday morning's Arkansas Gazette Jerol Garrison wrote:

"Four other excursion steamboats still travel the country's inland waterways, but they only operate during the day. They are the Belle of Louisville at Louisville, Ky.; the President at New Orleans; the Admiral at St. Louis; and the new Julia Belle Swain, placed in service last year on the Illinois River at Peoria."

A sister-in-law rode the Delta Queen from New Orleans to Memphis last year. I took a trip on the Admiral at St. Louis some time back; and I've seen the President at New Orleans—but the Sunday punch I reserve for mention of the Julia Belle Swain at Peoria, Ill.

This is "the new Julia Belle Swain," placed in service last year. But I rode the old one on an excursion up the Illinois River in 1911 when I was a boy of 11—something never to be forgotten, neither the boat's name nor the magic of the beautiful river unrolling as we moved upstream between green flats and hills.

Another stern-wheeler I excursioned on was the gigantic City of Dubuque which operated at times out of Quincy, my mother's old home. The City of Dubuque was a stern-wheeler of course, and had, as I recall, five or six decks despite its shallow draft.

The Mississippi boats were all stern-wheelers, and as a boy I wondered why; I liked the side-wheelers best—with a wheel on either side they could turn around standing still. Some years later I learned why stern-wheelers dominated traffic on the Mississippi: A log floating downstream might smash one of the wheels on a side-wheeler and put the boat out of commission. Debris could go under a stern-wheeler and pop up at the stern and smash one or two segments of the paddle; but the boat could still maneuver, and eventually the ship's carpenter would get around to replanking the wheel.

But I best remember the Julia Belle Swain because, (1) She was a boat, and (2) because the Illinois River is far more beautiful than the drab banks of the Mississippi.

About this leftover picture from my youth there are two things I ponder. Was the old Julia Belle Swain a stern-wheeler or a side-wheeler? As I remember it was a side-wheeler, but I am uncertain. The Illinois River years ago was fairly clear of debris, making a side-wheeler feasible. The other question is, how beautiful is the Illinois River today, fighting a sewage problem upstream in Chicago?

I'm curious about seeing Peoria again, but it's a calculated risk. You revisit scenes of your youth at the cost of shock or disillusionment.

Besides, those were days when I had aunts in both Quincy and Peoria, which accounted for a small boy's travels. Now they're gone, but memory persists—of a beautiful steamer on a beautiful river in our United States.

Wholesale Prices in Another Jump

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices jumped another eight-tenths of one per cent in January. The rise exactly matched December's increase and indicated that the expected Phase 2 price bulge has not yet begun to flatten out.

When adjusted for the usual seasonal trends, the rise in the wholesale index was only half as great, or four-tenths of one per cent, the Labor Department's announcement said.

The seasonal improvement resulted from a smaller climb in food and farm products, which rose 3.2 per cent in December—the biggest increase for those items in 10 months—and 1.3 per cent in January.

But there was no comfort for administration economists in the segment of the index that covers industrial materials and commodities. It increased five-tenths of one per cent, compared with four-tenths of one per cent in December. The industrial commodities are considered a better indicator of future price movements at retail than the food and farm prices, whose movements are more erratic.

White House economists had predicted substantial increases in both December and January, the first two full months following the end of the 90-day price-wage freeze. Early decisions by the Price Commission gave a green light to substantial adjustments of prices frozen since Aug. 15.

The wholesale price showing was disappointing nevertheless because consumer prices rose only one-tenth of one per cent in January, or three-tenths of one per cent after seasonal adjustment. This movement, announced Wednesday, was a distinct improvement in the cost of living increase from December when the jump was four-tenths of one per cent, or a rate of 4.8 per cent a year.

UNDER FIRE from two sides, frontrunning presidential hopeful Sen. Edmund Muskie, under increasing attack from Democratic rivals as the first primary tests approach, has also been the target of blasts from administration spokesmen for his criticism of the President's Vietnam peace proposals.

Biggest Battle in Months Leaves 21 GIs Wounded

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American ground troops today fought their biggest battle in months, a clash with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces 42 miles east of Saigon.

First reports from the U.S. Command said 21 Americans were wounded but none killed in the five-hour battle south of an American artillery base called Cross Sabers.

Enemy losses were not immediately known. A spokesman for the U.S. Command, Maj. Chester Hanson, said the casualties were the heaviest since last July 5, when five Americans were killed and 38 wounded in a rocket attack on the Da Nang air base.

Fighting broke out at noon when a company of the 3rd Brigade, 1st Air Cavalry Division, engaged an enemy force of unknown size and exchanged small arms and automatic weapons fire.

The ground troops called in U.S. bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery to blast the enemy. Hanson said the fighting broke off just before dusk, but U.S. fighter-bombers continued to pound the area.

Meanwhile, U.S. military sources said heavy U.S. air strikes against three major enemy base camps along South Vietnam's western border in mid-February knocked out more than 200 trucks and destroyed large quantities of ammunition and fuel.

The sources reported, however, they could not say how the raids had affected enemy plans for an offensive in South Vietnam's central highlands, which has been predicted for several weeks by U.S. officials.

In other battlefield action reported today, enemy forces ambushed a 35-vehicle U.S. convoy in the central highlands and shot down a helicopter flying overhead. The U.S. Command said seven Americans were wounded and three vehicles damaged, but only minor damage was done to the helicopter.

Five more U.S. troops were wounded 13 miles southwest of Da Nang when an American helicopter gunship accidentally fired into their position while trying to drive off an enemy squad which engaged the U.S. patrol. A sixth man was wounded by the enemy, whose losses were not known. The command said the accidental firing is under investigation.

Mars Hotline Silent

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The "hotline" linking Moscow and Pasadena has been largely silent and barren, a disappointment for U.S. scientists who had hoped for fruitful exchange of data from the countries' two spacecraft orbiting Mars.

The teletype circuit was established in November shortly before the U.S. spacecraft, Mariner 9, went into Martian orbit.

The Soviet Union's Mars 2 and 3 spacecraft went into Mars orbit several weeks later and dispatched landers to the Martian surface.

There has been little communication on the circuit.

Soviet messages are received on teletypes at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory here. The Russians receive their

Brazil Fire Kills 12

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Twelve persons were killed in a fire that destroyed a 29-story office building and department store in downtown Sao Paulo Thursday.

Firemen expected to find more bodies when they were able to penetrate the upper floors. No one knew how many persons were in the building when the fire started just after 4 p.m. "Within 15 minutes the entire structure was ablaze," said a fire department major.

Some of the victims jumped from upper floors in panic and were killed. Helicopters took hundreds of persons from the roof, and firemen stretched ladders across from neighboring buildings to rescue others.

Election Bill May Handicap Some

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some political observers believe the Arkansas legislature, by advancing the primary election date to May 30, may have handicapped some candidates who planned extensive use of the help of college students in their campaigns.

The argument is that students will have less time between the end of classes this semester and the election campaign on behalf of their favorite candidates.

The legislature moved the election dates from June 27 to May 30 for the first primary and from July 11 to June 13 for the runoff. It also repealed the mandatory popular election of 80 per cent of a party's delegates to its national convention and left to the party State Committee the decision on what method to use to choose delegates.

By its action, the legislature assured that the state Democratic party can certify its National Convention delegates by the June 20 deadline, whether it chooses to select the delegation by a popular election or by a state convention, the more likely method.

The change also created hardships for the Republican party because the Republican Executive Committee already had adopted the mechanics for a popular election of 80 per cent of the party's National Convention delegation and repeal of the requirement has left the GOP in an "awkward" position, according to Neal Sox Johnson, state executive director of the party.

The upshot is that the Republican's State Committee and the four Congressional District Committees likely will select the GOP delegation.

Johnson said the GOP preferred a popular election, but that in the absence of a state law requiring it, party rules prevail.

Chou Pledges to Work for Better Relations Between U.S., China

PEKING (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai pledged tonight that China "will work unswervingly" for normal relations with the United States.

At a dinner in his honor, the Chinese leader was responding to a toast from President Nixon, who declared: "We have begun the long process of removing that wall between us."

The toasts seemed more low-key than those raised at Chou's banquet for the Nixons on Monday. At that time Chou remarked that "the gates to friendly contact have finally opened." Nixon said the two peoples can "rise to the heights of greatness from which we can build a new world."

Nixon gave a nine-course banquet for Chou and his Chinese associates in the Great Hall of the People, where the premier had entertained the presidential party at a dinner on the Americans' first day in China.

It was a meal of Chinese food except for grapefruit and orange segments flown from California and Florida, and California champagne.

Nixon in his toast, said it is possible for nations with different systems and values "to live together in peace ... letting history rather than the battlefield" be the judge of their decisions.

plauded frequently as the president spoke. Nixon likewise clapped his hands as Chou spoke.

Then Chou and Nixon drank a toast as the band played "America the Beautiful."

Nixon mingled with the crowd, exchanging toasts with various Chinese officials.

In his introductory remarks, Nixon praised the Chinese people.

Recalling his visit to the Great Wall of China, Nixon called it one of "the great wonders of the world." He said the wall showed the determination of China to maintain its independence through its long history.

$5 Million Paid to Hijackers

BONN (AP) — Transport Minister Georg Leber announced today the West German government paid a $5 million ransom to secure the release of the hijacked Lufthansa jumbo jet and its 14 crew members.

Leber told a news conference that a Lufthansa security official handled the payment of the money to members of an Arab guerrilla organization in Beirut. He said the money was handed over Wednesday afternoon about 25 miles from Beirut airport, several hours after a deadline set by the hijackers, who threatened to blow up the plane and its crew.

"It was like a perfect thriller plot," Leber said.

He said the money was the only demand made by the five hijackers, who say they were members of an organization called the Victims of Zionist Occupation, a "daughter organization" of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine. The Popular Front is the organization that has been responsible for previous airline hijackings.

The airliner was hijacked over India Monday night with 189 people aboard and diverted to Aden on the southern tip of the Arabian peninsula.

Among the passengers was Joseph P. Kennedy III, oldest son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Leber said the hijackers' demands became known late Tuesday afternoon when Lufthansa's Cologne headquarters received a letter which had been posted in Cologne that morning.

The letter, "written in perfect English," announced the jet would be exploded with all the passengers and crew aboard unless the ransom demand was met, he said.

The letter specified that the ransom be flown to Beirut airport by a West German courier dressed "in a black jacket and light gray trousers," and carrying a Newsweek magazine in his left hand and a suitcase with the money in his right, Leber said.

The letter also contained the key of an automobile which it said the courier would find parked outside Beirut airport.

The letter specified 9 a.m. Wednesday as the deadline for the ransom payment.

While a Lufthansa security official chosen to hand over the money flew to Athens to await further instructions from Bonn, the West German government received confirmation that the hijackers had released women and children and then male passengers from the jet.

By Wednesday morning, Bonn received radioed reports that the hijackers were preparing to implement their threat.

At 11:25 a.m. Wednesday, with the deadline already passed, Leber said, he ordered the courier aboard the standby plane in Athens to fly to Beirut to hand over the money. The courier arrived at Beirut airport at 1:21 p.m.

The courier found a message on the front seat of the car instructing him where to drive. Tailed by another car, he passed through two guerrilla checkpoints and finally was directed to the spot where he handed the money over.

Delicate Task Briefing Asian Nations on Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the most delicate U.S. diplomatic assignments in recent years is shaping up for Asst. Secretary of State Marshall Green. He will brief Asian leaders in a dozen capitals after President Nixon returns from China.

Green will have the task of informing such figures as Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, President Chiang Kai-shek of Taiwan, President Chung Hee Park in South Korea, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu on details of the presidential talks with party chairman Mao Tse-tung and Premier Chou En-lai.

Green will carry personal assurances from Nixon that no deals were made at the expense of any U.S. friends or allies, U.S. officials said. But they acknowledge that Green's task has become more difficult due to the absence of State Department representatives at the main conferences.

Neither Green, nor Secretary of State William P. Rogers was present at the talks between Nixon and Chou or Nixon and Mao. Some State Department officials expressed dismay at the absence of Rogers, particularly at the ceremonial meeting between Mao and Nixon.

But department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said Rogers' role in China is "to sit in as secretary of State. It is not possible to be aware of all circumstances governing attendance at this distance here."

Green's first stop on Monday, a day after Nixon leaves China, will be Tokyo, followed by meetings in South Korea, Taiwan, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Thailand, South Vietnam, Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia, Australia and New Zealand.

Japan is reported particularly anxious about arrangements Nixon may have made for American technical experts to assist the Chinese in offshore oil explorations in the Po Hai Gulf. The gulf opens into the Yellow Sea and is considered a likely field for exploration.

Japan, with a chronic fuel shortage, is vitally interested in this development. The Japanese are considering a joint venture with the Soviet Union in building a 4,000-kilometer pipeline across Siberia to a port near Vladivostok.

State Police identified the victims as Aubrey Allen Cam, 28, of Mammoth Spring, and Rick Bias, 19, of Thyer, Mo.

Officers said a car driven by Case, in which Bias was a passenger, crossed the center line and collided head-on with a tractor trailer truck driven by Michael Bynum, 21, of Batesville.

Two Persons Die in Crash

MAMMOTH SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two persons were killed Thursday in a car-truck crash two miles south of here on U.S. 63.

State Police identified the victims as Aubrey Allen Cam, 28, of Mammoth Spring, and Rick Bias, 19, of Thyer, Mo.

Officers said a car driven by Case, in which Bias was a passenger, crossed the center line and collided head-on with a tractor trailer truck driven by Michael Bynum, 21, of Batesville.

Senate Vote Strips Courts of Power in Busing Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted today, 43-40, a proposal to strip federal courts of the power to issue any busing orders in school desegregation cases.

The proposal was offered by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the Republican whip, as an amendment to a higher education-school desegregation bill.

Its backers, including Southern senators and other conservatives, said it was their best chance to win passage of any legislative amendment halting busing orders in school cases.

In addition to affecting the powers of the courts, the amendment would prohibit federal officials from withholding or threatening to withhold any government funds in order to coerce a local school district from accepting a busing program to carry out desegregation.

Opponents of the amendment said it would in effect repeal the provision of the 1964 Civil Rights Act which requires withholding of federal money from state or local government agencies that practice discrimination.

They declared it would mean the end of the present school desegregation effort. The amendment would go much farther than the relatively mild Mansfield-Scott proposal written into the bill Thursday.

Camden Gets U.S. Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced Thursday that Ouachita Hospital in Camden, Ark., has received a Hill-Burton grant of $173,500.

The grant is to be used to replace obsolete machinery.

Bombs Explode Across Ireland

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST (AP) — Bomb blasts exploded today while police in Dublin and London questioned new suspects in the Irish Republican Army bombing of Britain's Aldershot army base.

Explosions believed to be the work of the IRA wrecked a downtown Belfast shopping arcade, a warehouse less than 100 yards away and a bus depot in Antrim.

Six persons including two policemen and a soldier were taken to a hospital with slight injuries after the shopping arcade was hit by a package bomb strapped to a bicycle.

No injuries were reported in the other bombings.

In London, police raided a suburban house, found shotguns and ammunition, and seized an Irishman after a struggle in which he received a black eye, authorities said.

The man was taken under armed guard from the south London house to Scotland Yard special branch headquarters for questioning about Tuesday's Aldershot IRA revenge bombing. Seven persons were killed in the blast.

During the raid police also confiscated a driving license. They checked to see if it was the one used to hire a car in which the Aldershot bomb was placed.

Police disclosed they arrested a second Irishman Wednesday in a raid on a south London house. The raid yielded important clues about the men who hired the car, they said.

No charges have been placed against either Irishman.

In Dublin, Prime Minister, Jack Lynch's drive against the IRA moved into high gear. Thirteen militants were behind bars and police lodged formal charges against Cathal Goulding, chief of the IRA's leftist official wing.

Supporters of the outlawed organization called for mass demonstrations throughout the Irish Republic to protest the government's crackdown.

Goulding was charged with violating the Offences Against the State Act by belonging to an illegal organization. Charged with him were three executives of Sinn Fein, the official IRA's political division, including General Secretary Tony Heffernan. They were among eight men arrested in Dublin Wednesday after the Officials had claimed responsibility for bombing a British army base at Aldershot, England, the day before. Seven persons were killed in the blast.

However, four of the eight arrested Wednesday were released early today without being charged.

In a flurry of activity Thursday night, more than 200 policemen made simultaneous raids on a number of Dublin houses and picked up 10 members of the IRA's Provisional wing.

The Provisionals, traditional Irish nationalists far to the right of the officials, have been in the forefront of the fighting in Northern Ireland.

Police sources said all 10 were young men giving addresses in Belfast, the northern capital.

After interrogation, three were released while the other seven were detained without charge. The Offences Against the State Act empowers the authorities to keep suspects in custody for 48 hours and then for a further 24 hours if requested by the police.

As the Dublin raids were under way police arrested two prominent Sinn Feiners in Cork, the major port in the south of the republic. They were identified as Bartle Madden and Jack Lynch. Lynch is not related to the Irish premier.

In Northern Ireland, guerrillas blew up a bus depot at Antrim and burned down an unmanned customs post on the River Foyle near Londonderry. No casualties were reported in the explosion, but a police spokesman said nine buses were wrecked.

Business as Usual for Vice President

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Other than serving as a presidential stand-in at a governors' banquet, it's been business as usual this week for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew while President Nixon is 10,000 miles away in China.

Aides said the reception and dinner Agnew and his wife hosted Wednesday night at the National Governors Conference was the only event added to the vice president's schedule because of Nixon's 12-day absence from the country.

Agnew himself was somewhat amused when, at a Turkish Embassy party the night Nixon left for China, he was asked whether he should be called "acting president."

"No," he replied. "The president takes the office with him wherever he goes."

In some states, a lieutenant governor becomes acting governor when the boss crosses the state border, but Agnew does not assume the powers of the presidency when Nixon leaves the country.

For instance, Nixon, while in Peking Monday, signed legislation passed by Congress to stop the already-ended West Coast dock strike.

In a statement relayed by the White House, Nixon said he took the symbolic action because he had pressed for congressional action on the measure while the strike was under way.

The statement was in a steady stream of communications flowing from the presidential party in Peking to the White House.

In the Executive Office Building, across West Executive Avenue from the White House, Agnew has worked in his carpeted suite, greeting visitors and performing normal duties.

"There's been nothing out of the vice presidential routine," said Vic Gold, Agnew's press secretary.

Others, however, are using Nixon's absence to catch up on chores which can't be accomplished while he is in town.

For example, Marine helicopter pilots who regularly fly the President to Andrews Air Force Base spent one morning this week swooping low over the Washington Monument grounds and the ellipse, to make practice landings on the White House South Lawn.

Harrison Publisher Dies

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — John R. Newman, 71, editor and publisher of the Harrison Times, died early today in the Boone County Hospital.

Newman founded the Times in 1919 and operated the newspaper in association with three brothers until 1945, when he was named president of Harrison Times, Inc.

Until a few weeks ago, Newman, although in ill health, continued to write his column in the paper. He had been a daily newspaper columnist.

Newman was a member of the state Welfare Board from 1936-49 in the board's formative years under Gov. Carl Bailey.

He was a member of the Arkansas Library Commission from 1956-60.

He was a member of the Harrison City Council for two years and was a charter member of the Harrison Lions Club and was a member of the Harrison Rotary Club.

In 1963, he was named man of the year by the Harrison Chamber of Commerce.

His widow and a sister, Mrs. Mary Clark of Houston, survive.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Holt Memorial Chapel here.

Drive Produces $45,623

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A one-week-old fund drive at Arkansas State University has produced $45,623 in pledges among universities, according to Sam Gensmo, chairman of the fund-raising committee.

The drive is for funds to construct a $2.5 million football stadium at the university.

The entire campaign to raise the $2.5 million is scheduled to be concluded by mid summer.

Clark Lashes FBI

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says the government is guilty of discrimination and illegal FBI use of a prison informer in prosecuting seven anti-war activists charged with conspiring to kidnap presidential Adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

Clark, heading the defense for the Rev. Philip Berrigan and the others, sought Thursday to cross-examine a federal prison official on the propriety of using an inmate for spying. He was unsuccessful.

He alleged it was contrary to government policy.

"This is very improper," chief prosecutor William Lynch protested in objecting to Clark's questions.

Agreeing, U.S. District Judge R. Dixon Herman told Clark, "You're far afield."

"I hardly think so," said Clark, his voice rising as he rose to explain. "It has to do with the discrimination of the prosecution in this case."

"You know it is not proper," Herman said, gaveling him down.

"It is proper," Clark insisted. "It shows the motives of the government. It shows a violation of the Fifth Amendment constitutional rights."

Berrigan is accused with his six codefendants of plotting in 1970 to kidnap Kissinger, blow up heating tunnels in Washington and vandalize draft board offices in an effort to force an end to U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war.

Berrigan and two other defendants—Sister Elizabeth McAlister, an art history teacher at Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y., and Dr. Eghal Ahmad, a Pakistani teaching in Chicago—also are charged with smuggling illegal mail in and out of a federal prison.

Clark and other defense lawyers told the judge this was selective prosecution, and discriminatory. They claim the sneaking of messages is a widespread practice in prisons yet government indictments on such charges are virtually unknown.

Lynch responded that there have been numerous prosecutions.

The government alleges Berrigan masterminded the Kissinger scheme from his prison cell at the Lewisburg (Pa.) Penitentiary, and used a fellow convict as a courier to carry his letters in and out.

Alaska Fire Fatal to 9

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Nine persons are missing and feared dead in a fire that destroyed the Nordale Hotel, police reported Thursday night.

A search of the rubble from Tuesday's fire was delayed until Thursday because of the intense heat, fire officials said. No bodies had been found by late Thursday, however.

Occupants of the hotel jumped from second-and third-story windows, to escape the fire, but officials of Fairbanks Community Hospital said none of the 10 persons treated there suffered serious injury.

The hotel, a landmark in Fairbanks, was a total loss.

Gun Wound Proves Fatal

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Robert Anderson, 26, of Evening Shade died in a Batesville Hospital Thursday night of a gunshot wound.

The shooting occurred at the home of his half-brother, Charles Isley, 37, near Sidney in Izard County. Isley, who helped bring Anderson 25 miles to the hospital, said there was a scuffle over a .22 caliber pistol and the gun accidentally discharged, officers reported.

No charge was filed Thursday night.

Election Dates Are Earliest in History

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — In two years, Arkansas has gone from the latest to the earliest dates in recent history for the primary elections.

In 1970, the first primary was held in late August and the runoff in early September. One of the arguments for the August-September dates was that they would shorten campaign time before the November general election.

The recently concluded special legislative session advanced the first primary to May 30 and the runoff to June 13 for this year, with the result that some politicians are worried that the 1972 campaigns will be wearisomely long.

This year, politicians also will have less time to make up their minds about whether to run. The ballot will close April 4, moved up from the traditional mid-April filing deadline. Filing will open March 14.

With the deadline less than six weeks away, few of the potential candidates have publicly announced their intentions, with the notable exceptions of U.S. Sen. John L. McClellan, Congressman David Pryor and Bryant attorney Ted Boswell, all in the Democratic race for McClellan's position.

The 1971 regular legislative session had scheduled the primaries this year for June 27 and July 11, but the special session changed them to ensure the certification of the names of delegates to the Democratic National Convention by the June 20 deadline if the party chooses to select the delegates by a popular election.

The special session repealed the mandatory requirement that the political parties choose 80 per cent of their delegations by a popular election to be held in conjunction with the primaries. The parties now have the freedom to choose the way they will select the delegates.

Some political observers speculate that advancement of the election dates will be advantage to incumbents seeing re-election.

But some of the incumbents, including Gov. Dale Bumpers, disagree.

State Rep. Calvin R. Ledbetter Jr. of Little Rock, a professor of political science, said he did not think there would be a "sizeable difference," although he said the less time available to a nonincumbent might make it more difficult for him to organize and finance his campaign.

He also said the early election dates might be a disadvantage to a candidate trying to whittle down a large lead with which an incumbent might have started.

Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock said he did not think there was much to the argument that the early election will help incumbents, since any candidate can announce and start his campaign as early as he chooses.

"An incumbent always has a basic advantage because he is an incumbent, and I don't believe it is increased by the new election dates," Brandon said.

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has gone to court for the first time to enforce Pay Board wage regulations and to ask for civil penalties in a wage-price suit.

The Justice Department filed suit Thursday against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. and Baltimore Local 117 of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen alleging violation of government pay regulations.

In addition, the Cost of Living Council announced it has denied a request from wholesalers of processed meat to exempt their products from price controls. If the exemption had been granted, it likely would have meant a substantial rise in prices.

The suit against A&P and the union local seeks $5,000 in civil penalties, half against the company, half against the union.

The council called the suit a test of Pay Board regulations that set a general wage-increase standard of 5.5 per cent, subject to some exceptions.

The case involves 77 workers at an A&P plant in Baltimore. The council said the union last November won a wage increase averaging about 22 per cent in a 16-month contract.

In addition to the civil penalties sought, the suit seeks an order directing the company to stop payment of wages in excess of the standards and an order directing the union "to refrain from inducing or coercing payment in excess of Pay Board standards."

The Cost of Living Council said it had turned down five requests for exemptions from price controls.

The Price Commission announced that it had ordered two companies, Zayre Corp., a discount chain company, and Albertson's Inc., a food-service company, to roll back all prices to the level that existed during the freeze. The commission said the two companies failed to comply with regulations in marking up prices.

Candidates Absent When Busing Issue Discussed

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
The Democratic senators running for president have achieved unanimity of a sort in the stormy dispute over school busing.

All five were absent Thursday when the Senate approved compromise terms on the busing issue, 51 to 37.

Only one, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, had announced opposition to the busing terms sponsored by Senate leaders, who sought to defuse what looms as a major issue in the 1972 campaign.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and George McGovern of South Dakota announced they would have voted for the measure; Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana expressed pleasure at the outcome.

The amendment would write into law some limits on school busing for the sake of racial balance, and would stay the effect of federal court orders requiring busing across district lines until all appeals have been exhausted.

The presidential candidates of both parties spread their campaigns from one coast to the other Thursday.

McGovern—The South Dakota Democrat told a gathering of teachers supporting him in New Hampshire that education must be financed by something other than property taxes. And the alternative, he said in Manchester, "has to be primarily the federal income tax." In Santa Fe, N.M., McGovern became the second Democrat—after Jackson—to register for the state's June 6 primary.

Sam Yorty blasted President Nixon's China trip as propaganda for the New Hampshire primary. But he said he doubts its long-range benefits.

LINDSAY—New York Mayor John V. Lindsay was stumping through California Thursday, with visits to Watts and East Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Francisco, where he acknowledged most top Democrats in the state were committed to others even before he started. "I did not expect to have establishment political leadership in my corner," Lindsay said.

MUSKIE—Maine's Democratic challenger barnstormed through Illinois, winding up with a surprise appearance at a meeting of Cook County (Chicago) Democratic committeemen. He said his desire is to get Illinois' uncommitted delegates on his side.

ASHBROOK—Nixon's conservative Republican opponent, Rep. John Ashbrook of Ohio, said in Pahokee, Fla., that the China trip is nothing more than "a travelogue," politically motivated.

State Records Inspected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Frank B. Evans, deputy assistant archivist of the United States, Thursday inspected state records at the Capitol that date back to the original Arkansas Constitution.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, custodian of the state's documents, said Evans' visit would provide help in planning for continued safe-keeping of the records.

Woman Killed in Accident

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Leona A. Gilliam, 73, of Elkins was killed Thursday in a two-car crash at Durham, 16 miles south of here.

State Police said a car driven by the woman pulled from a parking lot onto Arkansas 16 into the path of a car driven by Walter Mentz, 71, of Elkins.

HUMPHREY—Campaigning in Florida, Humphrey was applauded for his remarks against the pusher of narcotics: "He is selling murder on the installment plan and I have no damn time for him." Meanwhile, in Minneapolis, Humphrey's son, Hubert III, announced his entry into politics. The 29-year-old attorney said he is seeking a seat in the Minnesota state senate.

MR. AND MRS. JACK WATKINS

Miss Donna Stevenson and Jack Watkins were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church on Friday, February 4, at 7:00 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Stevenson and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jewel Dean Watkins and the late Lester N. Watkins.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Gerald Trussell before an altar banked with greenery and enhanced with pink candles and baskets of pink gladioli. Mrs. Brooks Collins, organist, played a program of pre-nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Billy Dan Jones, soloist, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Because". Lighting the candles were David Stevenson, brother of the bride and Russ Jones, cousin of the groom.

The bride given in marriage by her uncle, Don Fuller, was radiant in a gown of imported dutch lace over organza with a lace bodice and long puffed sleeves, scooped sabrina neckline and empire waistline. Her floor length train swept from a bow in the back with clusters of lace and seed pearls. Her elbow length veil was of silk illusion with a headpiece of delicate lace leaves edged in tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of sweet heart roses and stephanotis centered with a purple throated orchid atop a white bible.

Miss Sandra Stevenson served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Stevenson, sister of the bride and Miss Sara Polk of Little Rock. They were attired in burgundy velvet floor length juliet gowns with hot pink trim. Their hats were juliet style velvet with hot pink trim and veil. Each carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations with burgundy velvet ribbon and lace entwined.

Phil Watkins, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Groomsmen were Mike Jones and Junior Hargis. Alan and Ronnie Phillips, cousins of the bridegroom ushered.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stevenson chose a burgundy suit trimmed in white with matching accessories and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink crepe dress with coat of pink lace and matching accessories, her corsage was also a white orchid.

After the ceremony a receiving line was formed in the vestibule where a memory candle marked the table where Mrs. Herb Plumlee of Malvern presided over the bride's book. As the guests formed a line in the vestibule rice bags were passed out by Kimberly Vaughn and Bill Fuller.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore a Navy and Burgundy three piece suit with matching accessories and pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder.

Guests were present from Hope, Malvern, Hot Springs, and Little Rock.

Rehearsal Dinner
Preceding the wedding, of Miss Donna Stevenson and Jack Watkins, his mother, Mrs. Lester N. Watkins, was hostess for the rehearsal dinner at Perry's Restaurant on Thursday, February 3. An arrangement of white stock, white fuj mums, and white butterfly rosebuds in a crystal compote decorated the table where covers were laid for 25.

The couple chose that time to present gifts to their wedding attendants.

Takes Clothes That Public Doesn't Want

By ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — One way to find out about current fashions is to check your local Beautiful People and see what they're wearing. Or you can look to Goodwill Industries of America to see what the regular people are giving away.

"We know the trend of fashion by what we don't sell in a store," said Betsy Forte, public relations director in Washington, D.C., headquarters for Goodwill, a network of 145 member rehabilitation centers.

"When a style hits, the opposite style is sent in."

The centers are set up to job-train the handicapped, who repair donations of clothing and furniture for sale at Goodwill stores.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On a Saturday night in early February, almost 56-million people were watching CBS' "All in the Family." A couple of nights earlier, 41-million watched NBC's Flip Wilson.

These statistics are projected by the A. C. Nielsen Co., based on an audience sampling. Even if they are off by a million or two, they indicate the fantastic amount of attention received by a program that hits a popular chord.

For every enormously popular program, there are usually two victims on rival networks. These two powerhouse shows have knocked off three competitors this season and at season's end, the bag may reach seven.

At midseason, CBS' "The Bearcats"—Flip's competition—had such poor ratings it was canceled. Neither NBC's "The Partners" nor ABC's "Getting Together" had a chance against CBS' comedy about a bigot. After some frantic shifting and replacing of shows, it appears that the new rivals are faring little better. As a result, two venerable series may permanently fold their tents at season's end—ABC's "Bewitched," which was moved in against the Bunker family, and CBS' "My Three Sons," now in a losing fight against Flip.

In addition, it seems highly unlikely that midseason replacements "Me and the Chimp" on CBS and NBC's "Emergency" have much of a future.

Both "Bewitched," now in its eighth season, and "My Three Sons," on CBS for a decade, also have been showing signs of age.

The Fred MacMurray comedy has progressed to a point where two of the three sons are married and never seen and the place teems with grandchildren. If one is not a fan of the series, the cast is as hard to follow as that of a soap opera.

This week's story was some nonsense about everything going wrong, from cakes dropping in the oven to sprinklers getting stuck because the moon was in a curious phase.

The end of a series is sad, particularly for those involved, but it seems better to call it a day when it is still lively. Even in Nielsen defeat, these shows are attracting weekly audiences of around 15 million people.

Programming in the 1971-72 season probably will be the shortest in television history. The three networks have been slipping in occasional reruns all season from their theatrical film packages. It now appears that most series will be showing twice-told tales by mid-March.

Once the season consisted of 30 weeks of new programs—nine months. Most series these days consist of 22 or 24 episodes per year—not even six months—and some are slipping by with 18.

pants with pleats in front, priced at $1.89 but piling up in Chicago from lack of customer interest?

Right now, Goodwill stores across the country are up to their rafters in "out" objects from the 1960s and early 1960s: men's skinny ties, narrow-lapelled suits, women's large purses, ornate evening dresses, straight skirts, white gloves, garter belts and all kinds of hats.

New wedding dresses now sell as Halloween costumes for $1.00 in Los Angeles Goodwill stores.

"Wedding dresses are out. . . These days, they get married on horses, on surfboards," says John Martin, sales manager for the 16 Los Angeles stores.

Men's thin ties won't budge, even for a penny apiece, in New Orleans.

As men's colored shirts become standard fashion by 1969, the ballooning numbers of white shirts donated were headed for salvage in Chicago—until

Helen Bottel Helen Help Us!

A Witch's Brew in the Making?

DEAR HELEN:
My husband, age 45, a professional man, has pierced his ear, is wearing an earring and is uncommonly interested in witchcraft these days.

I was looking in the bottom drawer of an old file yesterday and came across some brass vessels, a red velvet-covered book (locked), and my mortar and pestle which I had formerly used for garlic-smashing.

I panicked. I screamed and called him weird. He refused to explain why he'd pierced his ear (which is still draining and looks infected but he won't see a doctor). Nor will he tell me what he's going to use this other stuff for.

He is not a "hippie" in appearance or philosophy. Naturally he won't see a psychiatrist as he insists he's perfectly normal. Should I see one instead?—NOT A WITCH

DEAR NOT:
With all the witch and warlock talk going around these days, it's no wonder people start delving. My suggestions: Don't panic. Show interest in this new "experiment." Get your husband talking about it. After that, you'll know whether he's gone overboard or is just dipping his toes in supernatural waters.—H.

DEAR HELEN:
You seem to think it's just fine for men to ogle girlie magazines, and even go to topless bars for business cocktails. It's women like you who perpetuate the myth that men have a natural-born right to these pastimes, while women should sit by and slowly die inside.

I, too, think "Hurt" should get a magazine of nude male pictures—I mean VERY nude—pore over them in front of her husband, leave them out when his friends are around. I wonder how broad-minded he'd be then? Whether you realize it or not, it DOES make a woman feel inadequate and unlovely when her husband eyes the nudes. I they were dyed bright blue. Then they sold fast for about $1.50.

The stores sometimes run short on red-hot items like raty, faded blue jeans and old furs. They were both prime targets for salvage just a few years ago, but now one of the most popular uniforms for the young. So people hang on to these choice clothes and think twice before tossing them into a donation box.

Some stores report that they've picked up a lot of "upper middle class" traffic in the last two years. For instance, there's the local judge in Los Angeles who stops each morning to buy a new tie for the day.

However, at stores like one in New Orleans, some 40 per cent of the trade comes from people of "limited means," according to sales manager Gerd Oppenheim.

DEAR M:
A woman who is sure of her husband seldom feels inadequate when he occasionally picks up a girlie magazine—unless he's stupid enough to make comparisons. Nor would he be jealous if she scanned nude male pictures, though he might consider her off balance, women supposedly being turned off by this sort of viewing.

Which brings up another question: Why is it that girlie magazines are accepted on middle class coffee tables, but if a wife hauled out a male-nude magazine, wow, would the whippers ever start! More double standard, no doubt.—H.

DEAR HELEN:
About the husband who told his wife, "I'd rather see a salmon in that kind of a net," when he saw the braless woman in the see-through crocheted dress: If she was overage and overendowed, he probably spoke the truth—better a salmon than a couple of flounders.

But a cute young kitten in a net see-through can make a wolf out of any old goat. If he pretended disinterest, he was probably still sneaking glances—and trying to impress his wife.—TOM McK.

DEAR TOM:
And you ought to know! Right?—H.

This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel in care of the Hope Star.

Blue Talks About Japanese Baseball

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

While Harmon Killebrew is happy with his dollars, Vida Blue says he might start collecting his paychecks in yen.

Killebrew, Minnesota's 35-year-old slugger who has hit 315 home runs and driven in 1390 runs in his major league career, signed his 1972 contract Thursday for an estimated $125,000. This would be $15,000 more than he made in 1971, when he clubbed 28 homers and knocked in 119 runs.

Blue, meanwhile, was home in Mansfield, La., even though the Oakland A's were spending their spring training camp in Mesa, Ariz. The 24-year-old pitcher is said to be asking $92,000, while Oakland owner Charlie Finley has offered $80,000.

And according to a report in the San Francisco Chronicle, if he can't come to terms with Finley, Blue might seek employment in Japan.

"Yes, I've been talking to teams in Japan," the Chronicle quoted Blue's attorney, Robert Gerst, as saying. "They are interested. If we can't reach an agreement with Finley."

Blue earned $14,750 last season, when he had a 24-3 record, a 1.82 earned run average and 301 strikeouts. He won both the Cy Young and Most Valuable Player awards.

Although he still feels he'll eventually get Blue to come to terms, Finley conceded there is a growing possibility the 22-year-old lefthander might not play for the A's this season.

"I'm beginning to wonder," he admitted.

Killebrew, meanwhile, maintained his record of never having been a holdout from the Twins. The veteran slugger, who broke into the major leagues in 1964, has averaged nearly 39 homers and 104 RBI in each of the 13 seasons he's been a regular.

Other than Killebrew, most of the major signings Thursday involved pitchers.

The Chicago White Sox signed Tom Bradley, a 35-game winner "last season," Detroit came to terms with Mike Killebrew, expected to be a candidate for the Tigers' starting rotation and Kansas City inked Dick Drago, who won 17 games in 1971.

Veteran reliever Eddie Watt, 3-1 with 11 saves, signed with Baltimore, while George Culver

Hawks Generous to a Fault

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks are generous to a fault—their own.

"We've put in about half of Buffalo's goals the last two nights," Chicago Coach Billy Reay sighed Thursday night after the Sabres, stunning the Hawks with four third-period goals, rolled to a 5-3 National Hockey League victory.

In the night's only other NHL games, Detroit beat Vancouver 2-0 and Montreal turned back Minnesota 4-2.

On Wednesday night, Buffalo got a pair of third-period gifts to beat Chicago 2-1 as the Hawks' Jim Pappin bounced the puck off a Buffalo skate and into his own net, then teammate Christian Bordeleau kicked the disc into his cage.

The gift-giving resumed 24 hours later, this time with Rick Martin the recipient as the Buffalo rookie ricocheted a shot off a Chicago stick for the winning goal with two minutes to play.

Mike Byers and Don Luce scored earlier in the period for Buffalo, then Danny Lawson fired the puck into an empty Chicago net with 10 seconds remaining.

Steve Atkinson got the Sabres' first goal after just nine seconds of play but, before the first period ended, Chicago led 2-1 on goals by Dennis Hull and Bill White. Hull scored again in the third period.

Oral Roberts Team Sets Records

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We didn't go out to set any records," said Oral Roberts Coach Ken Trickey.

He could have fooled Union College.

The 20th-ranked Titans, led by Richard Fuqua's 51 points and tremendous production from the reserves, squashed the Jackson, Tenn., school 155-113 in college basketball Thursday night.

"We just got up and down the court like we should do all the time," said Trickey in a masterful understatement.

His club, the nation's leading scoring team, "got up and down the court" enough times to deposit 70 field goals. Yes, 70.

"This is a heck of a way to go out of this building," said Trickey, referring to Oral Roberts' last game in its 3,000-seat field house. The Titans move into more expansive headquarters, the 10,500-seat Special Events Center, next year.

In other action Thursday night, 18th-ranked Houston defeated Corpus Christi 105-81 and No. 19 Memphis State stopped Wichita State 108-98 in a key Missouri Valley Conference game.

Fuqua, the second leading scorer in the country, boosted his average to 35.3 behind Southwestern Louisiana's Dwight Lamar. He started out slowly, scoring only eight

Littler Takes Lead in $26,000 Classic

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Golf's glamor gang—Nicklaus, Trevino, Palmer, Player—couldn't dent par at the beginning Jackie Gleason's $250,000 Invitational Classic.

For heroes, you had: —Gene "The Machine" Littler shooting a record 65 for the first round lead, displaying the faceless precision that magnetizes golfing perfectionists if not the roaring majority.

—Bruce Crampton, the "Awful Aussie" to some, close behind at 67 and explaining how he is perhaps the most misunderstood man on the tour.

—And, other contenders at 68 with such unmagical names as Bob E. Smith, Benson Rayfield McLendon and Forrest Fezler.

Jack Nicklaus began double-bogey, double-bogey and "rallied" for a one-over-par 73 on the 7,128-yard layout. Arnold Palmer "played miserably" with a 74. Lee Trevino shot 76 and marched to the putting green for practice. Gary Player was the best of the millionaire clan with even-par 72.

Crampton, while not in the upper strata of golf's glory squad, has always performed well in high-paying tournaments. The son of a Sydney cop won a $50,000 payoff at the 1970 Westchester Classic and has bagged $120,000 in his three latest triumphs.

With $52,000 top money on the table this week, Bruce headed around the first turn in magnificent position behind Littler, the family man from San Diego who gets a kick out of tinkering with his three old Rolls Royces, a Model A Ford and a 1955 T-Bird.

Rookie Fezler, along with unheralded campaigners Smith and McLendon, played well during an unusually windless

Florida morning.

Sensational rookie Lanny Wadkins, Masters king Charles Coody, Englishman Tony Jacklin and Doug Sanders were among a group of seven players at 69.

In all, 27 men cracked par on what was supposed to be a rugged Robert Trent Jones-designed course. The Nicklaus-Palmer-Player-Trevino bunch faced a battle today to make the 36 hole cut.

Minnesota, Minn. (AP) — A panel of Big Ten athletic officials was scheduled to announce its findings today in the suspensions of Minnesota basketball players Ron Behagen and Corky Taylor.

The results of a conference hearing Thursday were to be presented to U.S. District Court Judge Earl Larson, who gave the Big Ten until 6 p.m. today to reaffirm the suspensions.

Behagen and Taylor were suspended for the season after the brawl with Ohio State Jan. 25 in Minneapolis.

Three Ohio State players were sent to the hospital for treatment.

Athletic directors Ed Weaver of Ohio State, Paul Giel of Minnesota and Don Canham of Michigan sat in on the lengthy hearing Thursday but agreed not to vote on whether to continue the suspension.

The seven remaining directors went into executive session Thursday night after gathering evidence from eight hours of testimony, tape recordings, and movie films.

Judge Larson stipulated in a brief release Tuesday that attorneys for the players could appeal the athletic directors' decision to Big Ten faculty representatives. The proceedings of Thursday's hearing were taped for possible review by faculty representatives.

The hearing was closed to the press and public.

Attorneys for the players asked that Weaver and Canham not be allowed to vote because of statements they made about the case.

Billie King

Stalks Out

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Billie Jean King stalked out of the press room Thursday night following her loss in the opening round of the Virginia Slims Women's Invitational Tennis Tournament and said she planned to rest her foot for at least a week.

"I'm physically and mentally exhausted and I can't play my best," the tournament's top-seeded player from Long Beach, Calif., said.

Later, Mrs. King defaulted her doubles match. "I choose not to risk further damage of my big toe," she said.

She also said she was withdrawing from the Birmingham, Mich., tournament next week and will make a decision later on the Dallas, Tex., tournament March 7-12 where both Chris Evert and Wimbledon champion Evonne Goolagong are expected to play.

Mrs. King awoke Monday with the big toe on her left foot infected. She went to a doctor and was given a cortisone shot which relieved the swelling, enabling her to play.

Thursday night, however, Mrs. King swept past Julie Heldman of Houston 6-3, in the opening set before dropping the next two 6-4, 6-1.

"She won the first set," Miss Heldman said. "I won the second and, on a silver platter, she gave me the third. I don't think she wanted to play in that third set."

Mrs. King refused to use her injury as an alibi.

"The foot didn't hurt at all," she said. "There was no pain. You can't blame my loss on that."

"The thing that hurt me is I couldn't practice all week. But it's just indicative of the way I've been playing lately."

In other singles matches Thursday, Barbara Downs of Alamo, Calif., defeated sixth-seeded Judy Dalton of Australia, 6-1, 6-1; Nancy Richey Ginter of San Angelo, Tex., easily knocked off the No. 8 seed, Australia's Helen Gourlay 6-0, 6-2; and Miss Evert, the 17-year-old dazzler from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; stopped Australia's Karen Krantzcke 6-3, 6-2.

Thursday's daily double Bonuss Falcon and Eternal Story, Nos. 6 and 3, returned $112.20.

The crowd of 10,001 wagered $96,484.

Johnny Green Keeps on Rolling Along

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Green, like that oil man river, just keeps rollin' along.

Green, who has the distinction of having played professional basketball in three decades, came off the bench with just six minutes left to play Thursday night and sparked the Cincinnati Royals to a 108-97 National Basketball Association victory over the Buffalo Braves.

In the only other NBA game, Golden State defeated Detroit 116-106, while in the lone American Basketball Association contest, the Floridians defeated Denver 130-118.

Green, 38, entered the game with the Royals ahead only 85-83. He scored six points and added three assists down the stretch, teaming with Nate Archibald on four fast-break baskets.

Now in his 13th pro season, the 6-foot-6, 210-pound Green is regarded by his coach, Bob Cousy, as an inspirational team leader. Green, who broke into the NBA with the New York Knicks in the 1959-60 season, led the league in field goal accuracy the past two years.

Meanwhile, Archibald led all scorers with 32 points, while center Sam Lacey contributed 20 points and 15 rebounds. Cincinnati has now won four straight.

Rookie center Elmore Smith led Buffalo with 23 points. Forward Bob Kauffman had 21 and guard Walt Hazzard added 19.

Warren Jabali scored 30 points, including a team-record six three point goals, to spark the Floridians. Jabali also had 10 assists as the Floridians, tied 92-92 after three periods, outscored Denver 38-28 in the fourth quarter.

Ralph Simpson had 29 points and Dave Robisch 24 for Denver, while Willie Long netted 25 and Mack Calvin 23 for the Floridians.

Golden State trailed 55-43 at the half, but came back strongly in the second half to defeat Detroit, outscoring the Pistons 34-23 in the final period.

Cazzie Russell scored 20 points in the third period to spark the Warriors' comeback effort. Russell finished with 26 points, while teammates Nate Thurmond had 27, Jeff Mullins 25 and Jim Barnett 24.

Attorneys for the players asked that Weaver and Canham not be allowed to vote because of statements they made about the case.

Book on State Trees

The Arkansas Forestry Commission has reissued the handbook "Trees of Arkansas" by Dwight Edmund Moore, Emeritus Professor of Botany at the University of Arkansas.

Publication of the new book, which was timed to coincide with the week-long observance of Arbor Week in Arkansas during the first week in February and the centennial anniversary of the celebration of Arbor Day in the United States, updates an earlier edition, now out of print, published by the commission in 1960 when the author was professor of forestry at Arkansas A & M College at Monticello.

The book 5" x 9" in size and containing 144 pages, lists the names of some 115 native tree species found in Arkansas and includes fine-line drawings of each species' characteristic leaf pattern. Records for the largest size of each species so far measured in the state are also included.

The book is available in two different bindings - a paperback with attractive walnut-grain facsimile covers for $1.00, and with a green hardcover imprinted with gold lettering for $3.00. Both editions may be purchased from the Forestry Commission at Main Street in Stamps, Arkansas or by mail to P.O. Box 158, Stamps, Arkansas 71860.

Baez Benefit Date Set

MEMPHIS (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez will hold a benefit concert here March 24 for the Lee County Cooperative Clinic and persons in the Marianna area.

Miss Baez offered to do the concert after learning that Lee County was among the 10 poorest counties in the nation.

She had agreed earlier this month to perform for Lee County residents, but promoters have had trouble finding a suitable location for the concert.

The post card had its beginning in Austria on Oct. 1, 1869.

Pick Right Variety for Home Gardens

Selecting the right variety is an important step in producing vegetables in the home garden, says County Extension Agent Calvin J. Caldwell. A list of vegetables varieties recommended for Arkansas home gardens is found in Leaflet No. 495, which is available through the County Extension Office located in the County Courthouse. You could call 777-5771 and ask that a copy be mailed to you.

Other good sources of information on varieties can be found in seed catalogs. Many seed companies periodically introduce new and improved vegetable varieties and you may want to try a new one. Trial plantings should be small, as the new variety might not be adapted to Arkansas' climatic conditions.

There is one thing that the gardener should check when reading about new varieties in a catalog. Many of the new ones may have been developed for machine harvesting. This usually means that the variety will give a concentrated yield for once-over harvesting. The home gardener usually prefers a variety that will yield over a period of several days or weeks.

Plant diseases are often a problem in the home garden. One of the best ways to avoid this trouble is to plant varieties with Cadette Troop No. 75 served as Pages for the House of Representatives on Tuesday during the special session. They were the guest of Representative Mack McLarty. During their stay a number of amendments were voted on, one of which was the approval of $30,000 for the 3rd District Livestock Show. The House also discussed the drug bill.

The troop visited Secretary of State and Mrs. Kelly Bryant. They were shown the State Seal, the original Constitution, the treaty signed by the Indians, paintings of Ark. scenes painted by Ark. artist bought and donated by Mr. Bryant and records of Arkansas.

Later in the day they visited Senator Olen Hendrix who introduced them to the Senate. The Senate discussion was on the proposed merger between AM&N College and University of Arkansas.

They also met Legislature

Pooled TV Coverage Still Very Costly

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The three major American television networks pooled their resources to cover President Nixon's trip to China, but even so it is costing each more than $1 million.

Voice and pictures come over a complicated relay from Peking, but viewers here have been astonished at their excellent quality.

Asked if there were any special reason for the technical excellence, George Miller at the TV China Pool, said:

"No, not really. Technically, nobody in China has been doing anything unusual. It's just a normal overseas satellite transmission."

"Technically, it's a miracle," said Sid Kaufman of CBS.

However, network executives said one survey indicated not as many viewers as expected were watching.

New York Arbitron, the only audience survey available so far, said about 60 million Americans watched Nixon's arrival

NORTH 25

West 25

Pass 25

Opening lead—♠ 10

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Only an expert or a real dud could get himself set at four hearts. Any ordinary player would take the club finesse and repeat it.

When a certain great player held the South hand in a west coast duplicate he refused to take the club finesse and wound up with one of those zero scores.

He did have a good reason for his play. It happened that West led the ten of clubs!

South looked the hand over carefully, decided that West just could not hold the club king so South let the ten hold the trick.

West shifted to the ace of spades and the defense collected two spades and a diamond plus the club lost at trick one.

What was his good reason? He had decided that West would never lead from a king of a suit bid by dummy.

Then East had to have the club king. It might well be a doubleton. In that case it would fall under the ace at the next lead and there would be two discards on clubs waiting for him. He would make four hearts. All other declarers who got a club lead would be one down.

Unsuccessful, but expert reasoning anyway.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

CARD Sense

The bidding has been:

West North East South

1 ♠ 3 ♠ 3 ♠ 2 ♠

You, South, hold:

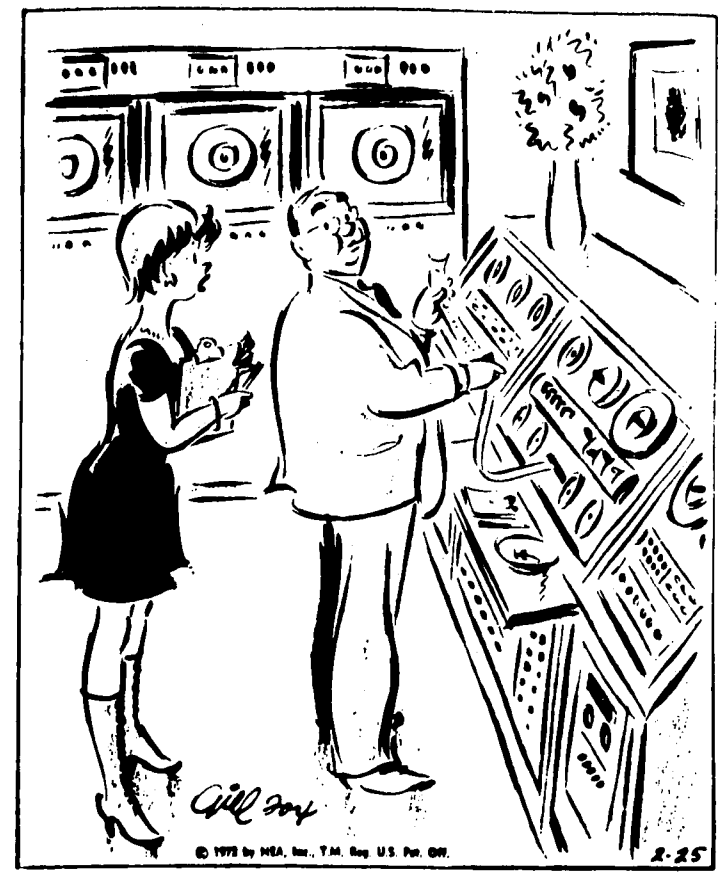

♠ 9 8 6 5 4 ♠ A Q 6 ♠ A 3 2 ♠ J 4

What do you do now?

A—Bid either four or five hearts. We favor four.</

UP?

All through life we are being measured and we wish people would use longer rules. But maybe the amount of quality they find don't justify a longer rule. Ancient men found 613 rules in the Bible to measure by. Moses gave us the Ten Commandments; Jesus provided the Beatitudes; others suggest St. Paul's ideal principle of love, but still others chose ideal persons to measure by: George Washington, Abraham Lincoln or Helen Keller.

But someone has well said, "a man measures tallest when he stoops to touch the life of a child." Jesus said we must become as little children. Surely, He is our best example to measure by.

President Braves Cold, Jokes in Forbidden City

PEKING (AP) — President Nixon toured Peking's Forbidden City for nearly two hours today and in high good humor cracked jokes, ignored the heavy snow and told his Chinese host about an old arm injury.

Wearing a dark topcoat but bareheaded as usual and without gloves, he walked from building to building through the snow-covered courtyards.

"We don't want to see it all today because we want to leave something to come back to," Nixon said as he toured the vast palace from which the emperors ruled China for nearly 600 years.

As he picked his way down one set of icy steps, the President turned to his guide, Yeh Chien-ying, vice chairman of the Military Affairs Commission, and remarked: "If I fell it would make a good picture."

Nixon recalled that while a member of the House of Representatives, he fell down some stairs and broke his left arm at the elbow. Holding the arm out from his body, he told Yeh he has never been able to extend it fully as a result. "Ever since I've been careful," he added.

Shown a royal reception room where child emperors sat on a gilded bench to handle affairs of state which their mothers prompted from behind a screen, Nixon cracked: "It's the same today. The women are always the back seat drivers."

The President also introduced Yeh to a succession of American newsmen, including conservative William F. Buckley Jr. "He's very liberal—sometimes," Nixon joked, then quickly added, "don't quote me."

In the museum section, the President saw some gold earstoppers used by royalty to keep out sounds they didn't relish. "Give me a pair, will you?" he jested.

Mrs. Nixon wore the blond mink coat in which she left Washington and also was bareheaded as she followed her husband around the pagoda-topped palaces. Secretary of State William P. Rogers helped her up and down each set of icy steps.

The party toured ornate throne rooms, the offices of emperors dead for centuries and royal bedrooms. Then they moved at a leisurely pace through a museum section displaying rare and beautiful relics of ancient China dating as far back as 7,000 B.C.

American news photographers took pictures of the Nixon's peering into glass cases filled with Han dynasty bronzes that had never been photographed for publication, even in China. The Han pieces were produced in the time of Christ.

"Some of the art work is just out of this world," said Mrs. Nixon.

She said she has enjoyed Chinese hospitality tremendously and added: "They have just tried so hard to make everything pleasant."

Sorting Out Worries and His Convictions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — A man should sort out his worries periodically just as he does his convictions.

If he doesn't, he will wind up worrying needlessly and profitlessly in all directions.

And since Lent is a good season for giving up things you don't really need, now is a good time to quit worrying about things you can't do much about anyway.

Here are a few possible items on your I-won't-fret-my-little-head-about-that list:

Has science gone too far?

How many friends will Mayor John V. Lindsay make and how many people will he influence in the Democratic party?

Would it be better for international amity if all Americans studied Russian or just learned to eat with chopsticks?

Can a man really build character by eating more breaded veal cutlets?

After Congress, what?

Is death worth living for?

"When a lot of people are out of work," said Calvin Coolidge, "unemployment results." What did he really mean by that remark?

Some people don't put too much stock in the stock market. Do they need to take stock of themselves?

Who gave Margaret Mead that snazzy new red hair ribbon for Valentine's Day?

Why is it that everything that goes into one ear of Dr. Joyce Brothers seems to come out her mouth?

If a baby is reared according to Dr. Spock, will he grow up to think like Dr. Spock?

Why save the environment as it is? Since it changes us for the worse—it makes us grow old, for example—why shouldn't we try to change it for the better?

What makes people so violent when they talk about violence?

When will the real Howard Hughes stand up?

Chinese Subways Cheaper But the Wait Is Killer

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
PEKING (AP) — The subways in China's capital are newer, cheaper—two cents a ride—and more mugger-free than in New York, but it's a longer wait between trains.

The last one was three months ago.

Foreign correspondents stationed in Peking say that the 15-mile system inaugurated three years ago is having technical trouble. The cars don't fit close enough to the platforms, or vice versa, and they keep losing commuters on the tracks.

Other underground sources say the trains make such a screeching roar under the streets that they frighten the many cart horses and donkeys into upsetting their wagonloads of night soil and what not and bolting off to berserkville.

While the Chinese subway engineers are back at the drawing board in the old rectification camp, the 16-station line occasionally is opened for the edification of foreign visitors or to take some of the party faithful joy riding. The palatial underground stations also serve double duty as civil defense bomb shelters.

Down through the centuries, the Chinese image makers have always had a marvelous facility for names. In the Forbidden City of Ming and Ch'ing Dynasty palaces, visited the presidential party visited today, there is the Gate of Supreme Harmony, the Palace of Heavenly Purity, the Hall of Earthly Intercourse, the Temple of Listening to the Birds and the Palace of Abstinence.

Since the revolution, the Communists have added to the Imperial Palace compound a Hall of Mental Cultivation, a Hall of Receiving Successful Scholars and a Pavilion of Introspection.

Perhaps in nostalgia for the visit by the White House press corp they will set aside a Pavilion of Pushing Photographers, a Pleasure Dome of Double-Doming Pundits and a Lake of Delight in Prime Time Exposure.

an impatient Paper Tiger press has learned, are a lot slower than in New York or Washington. Chinese stamps have no glue. The clerk at the window hands you a stamp, a paste pot and a wet towel.

The Chinese hosts may also have overestimated the vigor of the American press. They installed a badminton court, Ping Pong tables and a bowling alley in the cellar under the press room and haven't had a single customer.

With the nearest golf course 1,000 miles, the press has worked off its excess energy reaching across the table with ferociously poised chop sticks and jumping up and down in place for the endless "gom-bay"—bottoms-up toasts.

For instant table repartee, there are fortune cookies with quotations from Chairman Mao.

In Mao's classless, revolutionary society, all army ranks and insignia have been abolished, but visiting reporters soon learned to tell the officers from the men. The officers have pockets in their uniforms.

Tech Faculty to Have More Voice

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
RUSSELLVILLE, Ark.
(AP)—The Board of Trustees of Arkansas Polytechnic College voted Thursday to give the Tech faculty, labeled "intellectually mediocre" by an accrediting agency, a majority voice in selection of a new president for the school.

The board approved a motion by Jerry Russell of Prairie Grove, Gov. Dale Bumpers' new appointee to the board, to set up a nine-man Presidential Search Committee which will have five faculty members.

The committee will winnow seven names from a list of presidential aspirants and the board will select from that group a successor to Dr. George L. B. Pratt, who has resigned in a feud with the faculty over his administrative procedures and a plan for reorganization of Tech's academic structure.

Russell's committee proposal was approved in preference to an alternate plan suggested by Pratt which would have placed only three from the faculty on a 10-member committee.

Pratt resigned after Bumpers named Russell to the board last month to replace Dr. George Malone of Atkins. Malone's departure broke up a 3-2 pro-Pratt majority on the board. Pratt's resignation is effective June 30th.

Before taking the lead in establishing a selection committee and in setting the criteria under which presidential applicants are to be judged, Turner voted with Dr. Ralph Bowers of Harrison and Jack Thiele of Fort Smith in beating back a bid by the two anti-Pratt board members to delay action on a statement of board policy in support of the controversial reorganization plan.

Alan Stallings of Morrilton moved for a delay and Randy Talkington of Russellville seconded his motion. The kiss of death to the delay motion came after Dr. Robert A. Young, vice president of administration, said he had to know now how the board stood so he could proceed with preparation of a budget with or without the reorganization.

Pratt also warned the board that any prospective president would want to know which way the college was headed before taking the job. "What it is you want a man to preside over will have an effect on the kind of man we select," said Pratt. He said that the board should unite behind a policy because a divided board will leave the new president in the position of being wrong with a segment of the board, regardless of what he does.

"The better man you're looking for is not going to place himself in that position," Pratt said.

Students More Job Conscious

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national survey suggests that colleges of the 1970s may be more job-and-money-conscious and ready to join the establishment than were students of the 60s.

A popular trend among undergraduates during the past decade was to shun profit-making careers and turn toward service to mankind through such agencies as the Youth Corps and VISTA and such endeavors as working in urban ghettos.

Employers were lined up bidding for those ready to take a job. Then the economic crunch hit. Now most graduates have to seek out potential employers. Many are finding it difficult.

"The unemployment situation has come as a shock to many college students who, up to this time, had considered stories of the Great Depression as part of American folklore," said William W. Carlson, president of the University of Toledo.

"The idea that an opportunity to have a job is something to be cherished is a new concept for some of them," he added. "I feel it has had a sobering effect on many a campus."

Toledo was one of 80 schools that responded to a survey conducted by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU).

"Are your students turning away from the altruistic, non-money oriented types of courses evident during the 60s in favor of courses that will insure them well-paying jobs when they graduate?" the questionnaire asked.

Replies ranged from flat yes to no but a sizable number of deferred qualified replies that indicated student concern over employment after graduation.

John J. Kamerick, president of University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls, Iowa, reported a mixed verdict from his staff and added, "I regret the decline of idealism."

President R. Leestarp of Worcester State College, Massachusetts, quoted a school counselor as saying, "Generally speaking, I feel that the freshmen I have had contact with during this past year are running scared. By that I mean they are not only concerned with the question 'Who am I?' but far more concerned lately with the question, 'Where do I go?'"

H.K. Hughes, vice president of State University College, Potsdam, N.Y., said, "We do not see any turning away from altruistic-oriented career goals. Our students are intensely interested in service to their fellow man and prepare for careers in the field of environment, sociology, social service, psychology and economics."

Israeli Raids Inside Lebanon

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — New Israeli raids were reported in southern Lebanon today in retaliation for guerrilla attacks as U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring arrived in Israel in an effort to revive his deadlocked peace mission.

Residents in southern Lebanon reported that Israeli planes and tanks struck in three areas.

There was no immediate confirmation from the Lebanese or Israeli governments, but Beirut Radio interrupted a religious program to broadcast a message for "security forces in remote areas" to "beware, snakes in Zon 10."

Arab guerrillas killed a young married couple in a bazooka ambush just below the border early Thursday, and infiltrators in another attack later in the day killed a soldier and wounded seven others. Lt. Gen. David Elazar, Israel's chief of staff, warned the Lebanese government that reprisals were likely unless it curbed the guerrillas.

Reports reaching Beirut said an Israeli ground force of about 200 men backed by armor moved across the border at dawn into Aitaroun and Ainata, two villages two and three miles inside Lebanese territory. Israeli planes meanwhile attacked the town of Rachaya-Foukhar, in the southeast corner of the country on the lower slopes of Mt. Hermon, these reports said. The area is a major stronghold of the Palestinian guerrillas.

Initial reports said the invaders blew up several houses in Aitaroun and Ainata in the belief that they were used by the guerrillas.

Israel in a letter to the U.N. Security Council in New York declared that the Lebanese government has an obligation to stop the guerrilla attacks. Lebanon has denied that Beirut authorities had any connection with the incidents.

Jarring has confined his efforts to trying to get negotiations going between Israel on the one hand and Egypt and Jordan on the other. On his arrival today, he made no mention to newsmen of the renewed guerrilla activity, saying only, "I want to inform myself on the situation in the Middle East."

Jarring flew to Israel from Cyprus after holding talks earlier in the week with Egyptian and Jordanian officials in Cairo and Amman.

Foreign Minister Abba Eban took a cool tone toward the meeting, declaring in a newspaper interview that Israel's position on withdrawal of its troops from the territories captured in the 1967 war "still prevails and we are not going to change it."

It was Israel's refusal to give an advance commitment to pull back to the prewar borders after a peace agreement that deadlocked Jarring's mission a year ago.

Eban said Jerusalem was concentrating on a special settlement to reopen the Suez Canal and not on the Jarring mission. Israel accepted a U.S. proposal to mediate a canal settlement earlier this month, but Egypt has ruled out negotiations under the U.S. aegis and is holding out for Jarring.

Asked if Israel would agree to allow Jarring to mediate a canal settlement, the foreign minister replied in the negative.

"U.S. mediation is one of the integral conditions of the partial agreement," he declared. "Our consent to hold negotiations was the basis that the good offices of the United States would be utilized."

is by now a habit with Norman Rockwell, who turns his talents again to a typically American subject, the Boy Scouts. Life imitates art, instantly recalling numberless familiar paintings, as the artist poses his models for a series of 12 special illustrations of the basic tenets of Scout law.

Liquor Stores Drop Appeal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dan A. Stewart, attorney for two Conway County liquor stores that had their licenses suspended by Alcoholic Beverage Control Administrator Bob Brumbelow, said Wednesday the owners of the two stores had decided to drop their appeal to the ABC board.

Stewart said the owners still believed they had been singled out for discriminatory treatment and that the punishment was not justified.

Brumbelow closed the stores for 30 days, but held 15 days of the suspension in abeyance.

Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins and other law enforcement agencies working with him made numerous allegations of liquor law violations against the stores—Conway County Liquors and Rossi Liquors Inc.

Stewart has contended that Hawkins singled out the two stores for unwarranted surveillance and traps for political reasons.
